Submission Criteria & Other Information

On the Same Page™ is our newsletter showcasing high quality examples of display styles of evidenced-based information and decision aids for practitioners and patients.

Submission Criteria & Other Information

1. Submissions are for the purpose of showing how to provide effective ways to convey evidence-based health care information to practitioners and patients. Submissions may be in the form of –
 - a. Examples only (which must be marked “Fictitious Example Only” and which must have hypothetical placeholders, such as “Drug X”).
 - b. Factual information which must conform to the following criteria:
 - i. Be rigorously evidence-based.
 1. Be created as a result of a systematic search of all potentially relevant literature which has been appraised as being valid.
 2. Be up-to-date at the time of submission and be kept up-to-date (bi-annual up-dates and more frequent updates if major new valid evidence is published in a peer-reviewed journal).
 3. Include information on benefits, harms and uncertainties.
 - ii. Include evidence-based information, along with your submission, that can be published as well, in accordance with the terms in this submission information:
 1. Search strategy.
 2. Evidence used.
 3. Critical appraisal.
 4. Population to which the evidence applies.
2. Submissions must be electronic and can be emailed to us or mailed to us on floppy or zip disk.
3. We reserve the right to accept or reject any submission for any reason.
